

Limitations of Fourier Descriptor Approach

- Only Defined for Four-Bar with Revolute Joints
- Restrictive Objective
 - Mathematically Optimal Solution may not be practically optimal
 - discards a large proportion of numerically sub-optimal solutions with desirable properties

Need of Generative Model

- Input Conditioning and Imputation requires capturing the underlying pattern
- Learning joint probability distribution of linkage parameters
- Generate Variational Inputs to exploit nonlinear nature of the problem